THURSDAY APRIL 5, 1744.

Yeſterday arriv'd a Mail from Holland.

Peterſburgh, March 17.

AN Expreſs from Moſcow paſs'd thro' this City this Morning, in its Way to Stockholm. We learn by the Letters he left here, that the Britiſh Ambaſſador, Lord Tyrawley, was arrived at that Capital; all the Foreign Miniſters, and ſeveral of the principal Lords of the Court, having gone ſome Miles meer him. The Knez Wiſniakow, our Miniſter at ſtantinople, has informed the Court, that the Grand r told him in Converſation, that the Porte intended dily to ſend a Baſhaw with the Character of Ambaſſ- to the Empreſs; not only to renew the Aſſu- es formerly given her Imperial Majeſty of Friend- and good Neighbourhood, but alſo to felicitate the d Prince on the Succeſſion being eſtabliſhed in his ut.

penhagen, March 28. Count Teſſin, Ambaſſador Sweden, had Yeſterday his Audience of Leave the Prince Royal; and this Day of his Majeſty; after exchanging the Ratifications of the Convention concluded, for accommodating the Difference be- n the two Courts, he ſet out this Evening for kholm. Several Noblemen are preparing to make mpaign in the Army of Prince Charles, in Quality olunteers. The Prince of Beveren and Count d'Iſen- g, who are of that Number, have been promoted; irſt to the Rank of Captain, the Second to that of Major of the Corps of Grenadiers.

me, March 21. The Pope performed lately, in Chapel, the Ceremony of bleſſing the Roſe of Gold, h it is cuſtomary to preſent to ſome great Princeſs. a Suſpicion, that the late General d'Ara-Celi took ourney to the other World, in Conſequence of a of Acquetta Napolitana, which is, of all others, oſt ſubtle Kind of Poiſon, and never fails of pro- g its Effects, Orders were given for opening his ; and, upon performing the Operation, it appeared is Liver was hard puffed up, and of the Weight of Pounds, inſtead of Four, which is its uſual Weight; ungs were waſted, he had a Polypus in his Heart, Nine ſmall Stones in the Paſſage which carries the o the Ventricule; then, as for Bile, he had none and the Dura Mater adhered to the Cranium. The cians having reported all theſe Circumſtances to the , he was pleaſed to order the Secretary of State, to into his Cuſtody ſuch Papers belonging to the De- , as relate to the Affairs of the Order; together the Seals and Cyphers in his Poſſeſſion, which are tranſmitted to Cardinal Paolucci, which he is to r to Father Criſper, the oldeſt, and moſt worthy of the Order; and are to remain in his Cuſtody new General of the Order is elected, in a Chapter e Order which is to be held there.

ples, March 15. The Princeſs Doria was, within few Days, brought to Bed of a Son; which is d upon as ſomething very extraordinary, conſider- ng the Prince, her firſt Husband, was divorced his firſt Lady on Account of Imbecility, after ars Cohabitation. As yet we have no exact Ac- of the late Engagement at Sea; all that we know Matter is, that the combined Squadrons are re- nto the Ports of Spain, and the Engliſh Fleet is to Portmahon; that the Coaſts of Provence are that the French talk of tranſporting 12 Battalions naco; and that the Ships and Gallies of that Na- e daily expected in thoſe Parts. A Ship that ar- rom Portmahon brings us ſome Pieces of Intel- e that have pretty much ſurprized us. He ſays, he Marlborough, a 90 Gun Ship, ſuffered exceed- in the late Engagement; that Admiral Matthews ith him, at preſent, 28 Sail; and that he has the Captain of the Princeſſa to be put under Ar- account of his Behaviour in the late Battle. The ick is determined to exert her utmoſt Force for eſervation of Final; and has ordered an Army to mbled of 11,000 Men, Part of Regular Troops, rt of Militia. His Sardinian Majeſty is, at preſent, making Military Preparations by Land and Sea; expect, very ſoon, to hear of ſomething deci- the Side of Nice.

don, April 2. We ſee here a Paper publiſhed of reat Conſequence. It is intitled, An Extract of ſſian Majeſty's Inſtructions to Count Dohna, his r at the Court of Vienna. They are in reference following Heads; 1. The Affair of the Dictature. 2. The Indemnity on which the Queen of Hungary inſiſts. 3. As to the Maintenance and Election of the Reigning Emperor. As to the Firſt, his Pruſſian Majeſty declares, that he will never ſuffer, under the Pretence of ſupporting the Golden Bull, or under any other Pretence whatever, the Election of the preſent Head of the Empire to be drawn in Queſtion; but will oppoſe all Attempts for that Purpoſe, with his whole Force, in Conjunction with the other Princes and States of the Empire. In regard to the ſecond Point, he declares, That he will never likewiſe ſuffer that Election to be conſidered as a Grievance, for which any particular Satisfaction may be expected, previous to a general Peace; ſave only, the reſtoring to its Activity the Voice of the Electorate of Bohemia. As to the Third, his Pruſſian Majeſty repeats the Declarations he has frequently made, that he will, to the utmoſt of his Power, concur in the Maintenance and Support of the Dignity of the Emperor, upon all Occaſions; whether any Attempts are made againſt it by direct Acts, or by Writings derogatory to his Imperial Majeſty's Honour or Title, Paris, April 3. His Majeſty has been pleaſed to grant to the young Count de la Marck, Colonel of a German Regiment of his own Name, the Government of Cambray, which his Father lately reſigned. The Troops deſigned to act in Piedmont, conſiſt of 30 Battalions and 60 Squadrons; the Spaniſh Army will be compoſed of 40 Battalions and 40 Squadrons. Orders have been iſſued, for building Men of War in all the Ports of the Kingdom. The India Company has undertaken to build five large Ships for the King's Service, and five of a ſmaller Size, for the Protection of their own Trade. M. de Camilli, who commands the Breſt Squadron, is again put to Sea, but whither he is gone remains an abſolute Secret; all we know of the Matter is, that his Ships have ſix Weeks Proviſion on Board. It is generally reported, that Count Maurice of Saxony will ſpeedily paſs the Rhine with between 40 and 50,000 Men. At Court it is ſaid, that he is to penetrate into Bavaria; but it is generally believed, that the true Intent of his Expedition is to fall upon the Electorate of Hanover. The 1ſt and 2d Battalio s of the French Guards have Orders to march towards Amians; and they actually began their March Yeſterday. Notice was given, on the laſt Day of laſt Month, to Mr. Thompſon, the Engliſh Miniſter, to ſhut up his Chapel, and to depart the Kingdom in a Week. A Royal Ordonnance has been lately publiſhed, dated the 20th of laſt Month, permitting, exhorting, and encouraging all the King's Subjects to fit out Privateers to cruize upon the Engliſh.

LONDON.

All Things ſeem to concur towards a general Diſturbance in Poland. The famous Rebel Woiſzelow has made his Eſcape into the Ruſſian Territories. Prince Radzivil ſent to demand him, but was refuſed; and, it is ſaid, that Diſturber is raiſing a new Party. In the mean time, the Prince keeps up a great Body of Troops, under Pretence of watching them; and that he may not ſerve his Country altogether for nought, he has ſeized three or four Lordſhips that do not belong to him. His Highneſs has blocked up old Count Tarlo in the Citadel of Zloczelow, his Troops having Poſſeſſion of the City. New Diſorders break out daily, the Tribunals of Juſtice cannot put the Laws in Execution; ſo that if his Majeſty does not ſoon return to Warſaw, all Things muſt unavoidably run into Confuſion.

According to ſome private Letters from Paris, the Court, inſtead of being diſpirited by the Diſappointments it has met with on all Sides, continues fix'd in its Reſolutions, and is preparing to take freſh Meaſures for carrying her old Schemes into Execution. The young Chevalier de St. George is gone to ſpend ſome Days at the Houſe of the Duke de Fitz-James; and, on his Return, it is believed the Palace of St. Germain-en-Laie, in which King James II. reſided, will be made ready for his Reception, and a conſtant monthly Subſidy paid him. In all human Probability, this has no other Motive, than to promote the Negotiations that are ſecretly carrying on, in order to bring about a Peace, of which France never ſtood more in Need than at preſent; and of which, at the Bottom, ſhe was never more deſirous, notwithſtanding Appearances that ſeem, indeed, to look another Way; but are conſidered, perhaps, at the ſhorteſt Means of bringing it about.

Some private Letters from Flanders hint, that France has lately been tampering with certain Burgeſſes of Tournay, and other Places; but that her Plots being diſcovered, and ſome of her Correſpondents apprehended, it was believed ſhe would be obliged to act at laſt by open Force, and declare War againſt the Queen of Hungary and the States-General. In the fourth Article of a late ſecret Convention, it was ſtipulated, 'That if in order, 'to make a powerful Diverſion on the Side of Flanders, 'any Power ſhould enter it with an Army, and reduce 'a Part of it, or any of the Cities in it, his Imperial 'Majeſty ſhall pretend to no Right over them, nor ſhall 'inſiſt to have them reſtored on any Pretence whatſo- 'ever, by a general Peace, or in lieu of Places, or Coun- 'tries, given up or reſtored to him.'

His Imperial Majeſty has lately declared, that he propoſes to command his Army in Perſon; and his Field Equipage is actually getting ready for that Purpoſe.

Count Poniatowski, who was thought to be out of Danger, is dead of his Wounds.

The Engliſh Packet Boat from Holland was attack'd, at a ſmall Diſtance from the Coaſt, by a Dunkirk Privateer. The Captain defended himſelf with great Courage, inſomuch that the Privateer having received a Shot between Wind and Water, and having alſo all her Rigging torn to Pieces, thought fit to retire, and to take Shelter in Hellevoetſluis.

His Majeſty was pleaſed to make the following Anſwer to the Addreſs which was preſented Yeſterday by the Houſe of Peers.

My Lords,

'I give you my hearty Thanks for this Addreſs, ſo 'full of that Duty and Zeal which I have always ex- 'perienced from you. The Unanimity with which it 'paſs'd, adds greatly to the Satisfaction I receive from 'it. I rely upon you to make good your Aſſurances; 'and you may depend on my Endeavours to carry on 'this War in ſuch a Manner, as may be moſt for the 'Advantage of my Kingdoms.'

This Day the Hon. the Houſe of Commons will wait on his Majeſty with their Addreſs of Thanks, for his moſt gracious Speech.

Yeſterday a young Woman, dropt down dead at the Seven Dials, ſuppoſed to have died for Want.

The late vigorous Attempts of the Emissaries of Rome to diffuse their poisonous Tenets among a free and Protestant People, and that under the happy Government of an Protestant Prince, must raise in every sober and Protestant Mind a just Indignation against them, and a tender Compassion to the Weak and Ignorant, who are most exposed to the horrid Delusions. Surely, never did any Thing, that bore the sacred Name of Religion, appear in the World, so monstrously absurd and detestable as Popery, which is in effect a Merchandise of Men's Lives and Souls, and lies in open Contradiction to Reason and Revelation, to Morality, to Common Sense, and to all the dearest Interests of Civil Society, of Liberty, Conscience, and Eternal Salvation.
